There are 2 alternatives by land. Through the Carretera Austral, the Scenic Route of Patagonia, which starts in Puerto Montt in the Lake District. From there start the Bimodal route, subsidized by the State, connecting both regions. The other option to access the Aysén region is through Argentina passing by the border crossings joining both countries.

A.-Bimodal Route

This route consists in a mix of two modalities: by land and sea. The route starts in Puerto Montt, bordering the Reloncaví Sound until Caleta La Arena and from there you take a ferry until Caleta Puelche, after that the road continues to Hornopirén to take the second ferry of 3 hours of sail. After you will land on Leptepú to follow the route to Fiordo Largo and take the third and last ferry to Caleta Gonzalo. Once in Caleta Gonzalo you can take the way to Chaitén and continue to the Aysén region.

Carretera Austral

Scenic Route of the Patagonia

Globally recognized as an ideal place to enjoy of the best landscapes, the Carretera Austral joins 1.240 km from Puerto Montt (in the Lake District) to Villa O'Higgins (southern limit of Aysen Region). The route in some parts is an urban highway and in others a rural way. Also it has some parts where a ferry is needed, through fjords crossing several rivers, lakes and different types of forests. The road offers to the visitors a surprising trip across different landscapes which go from evergreen forest to Trans Andean forests through channels and fjords, lakes of multiple colors, amazing glaciers, wide pampas, impressive rivers, national parks and reserves. An experience you will never forget and we invite you to know.

Activities and Excursions in Carretera Austral

Autumn Forests
42% of the regional surface is native forest, standing out the nothofagus species as Nirre (n. antartica), Coigue (n. dombeyi) and Lenga (n. pumillo) which fascinate with its warm colors.

Hiking to the "Ventisquero Colgante" in the Queulat National Park.

Trekking in the National Reserve Cerro Castillo.

Visit Tortel and the "Island of the Dead", the town was declared as a "Typical Zone" because its architecture and wooden walkways made of cypress.

Go all over through the Carretera Austral in a vehicle, starting from Puerto Montt through the province of Palena or via Chiloé or, as a third option, through Argentina entering Chile in the border crossings of Futaleufu, Coyhaique Alto, Palavicini or Chile Chico.

Panoramic view on the way around General Carrera Lake, the second biggest lake in South America.

Recreational fishing in lakes and rivers.

Ice hiking on the Northern and Southern Ice Fields.

Sailing to San Rafael Lagoon

Rafting on the Baker river, the mightiest river in Chile

Climbing in the San Lorenzo Mount.

Raúl Marín Balmaceda

Queulat National Park

The park has a surface of 154,093 Ha. Its main attraction and the reason why so many people visit the park is the Ventisquero Colgante (Hanging Glacier) which feeds many waterfalls and rivers and together with the exuberant vegetation as a result of its rainy coastline weather.

The park has: an Administration Center, camping and picnic areas and 3 hiking trails, of medium and high difficulty. These trails allow walking around and appreciating as the variety of flora and fauna of the park, the Tempanos Lagoon and the Ventisquero Colgante.

National Park Queulat

Fjords and Channels

The fjords and channels of Aysen are characterized by its scattered zone with its several islands and islets of exuberant vegetation. You will enjoy trail through evergreen forest, archeological sites, sea wildlife as birds, sea lions, dolphins and whales. Also in this zone are some towns as Melinka, Repollal, Puerto Gala, Puerto Cisnes, Puerto Aguirre, Raúl Marín Balmaceda, Melimoyu and others. Here you will know the culture of the fishermen who live between the sea and the land.

Río Palena

Puerto Puyuhuapi

This picturesque town has a noticeable German influence in the architecture and it is framed by high mountains covered by evergreen forests. (it is about 222 km. from Coyhaique)

La Junta

The Palena Basin

The northern entry to the region includes the towns of Lago Verde to the east, Raúl Marín Balmaceda to the west and La Junta (The Gathering) in between. La Junta is located over the wide Palena river valley.

Puerto Chacabuco

The main port of Aysen Region, located 81 km from Coyhaique and from where ferries sail to San Rafael Lagoon. As also an endless journey through fjords and channels that give life to all the coast of this dismembered region. This vast and insular geography together with snowy mountains and exuberant and colorful vegetation form, as in a painting, an impressive landscape at the end of the world.

Puente Presidente Ibáñez

Puerto Aysen

It is the second most important town in the region with more than 20 thousand inhabitants. It stands out for its architecture, where the constructions of native wood prevail. Its main attraction is the Presidente Ibáñez Bridge, which is a Historical Monument and the longest hanging bridge of Chile and attracts attention because its important structure.

Destination Lago Gral. Carrera

Marble Chapels Nature Sanctuary

The “Marble Chapels” Nature Sanctuary is a Natural Monument and it’s a group of islands and small islets where its main compound is molded marble, located in the General Carrera Lake between the towns of Puerto Río Tranquilo and Puerto Eulogio Sanchez. Its important scientific, scenic, touristic value and its contribution to the local identity and economic development of Puerto Tranquilo. This has let know these islands as geological patrimony of national relevance, which translates to thousands of visitors who enjoy every year the routes through its big caves and caverns surrounded by its characterized turquoise waters.

Puerto Río Tranquilo

This lake side town is found on the western side of General Carrera Lake. It is the hub for visits to the Marble Chapels Natural Sanctuary and the Exploradores Glacier, Leones Valley and from 2010 there is a new route to access the Pacific Ocean and to the well-known San Rafael Lagoon.

Coyhaique - Cerro Castillo

Coyhaique

The regional capital and economical center of the zone. It has all the services and touristic facilities. Placed between the valleys of Simpson and Coyhaique rivers. Here you can find the National Reserve Coyhaique, the Six Lagoon Circuit, the Indian Stone, the monument of the Shepherd, the Craft Fair and others.

Chile Chico

A border town located on the south shore of General Carrera Lake and just 9 km from Los Antiguos in Argentina. The international border crossing “Jeninimeni” is one of the most frequently used in the region. From this town, it is possible to make land connections to the south and north of the region bordering the General Carrera Lake and by sailing the lake. One and a half hours drive away is the Jeinimeni National Reserve with a huge variety of sceneries including rivers, lakes, valleys and glaciers, plus a diversity of birds and fauna.

General Carrera Lake

Called Chelenko by the Tehuelche, the native inhabitants of this place of Patagonia. It is the second-largest lake in South America and the source of the Baker, Chiles largest volume river. Around the lake are several towns that have developed a series of services and activities for tourism. Of particular note are Puerto Bertrand, Rio Baker, Lago Leones, The Marble Chapels, Cochrane and the Northern Ice Cap (Chile's largest reserve of pure water). This area offers an opportunity for the majority of adventure tourism activities with hiking circuits, fly-fishing, rafting & kayaking, horse riding, and mountaineering.

The area contiguous to the General Carrera Lake, Bertrand Lake, and the Baker River Is considered as a Zone of Touristic Interest (ZOIT)

National Park Cerro Castillo

The park has a surface area of 1179,550 ha. Located south from Coyhaique. Its hiking trails are part of the "Sendero de Chile". It has park ranger, camping areas, and some picnic spots. The main attraction is Cerro Castillo (Castle Hill) its summit is of 2,675 m.

Destination Carretera Austral Sur

National Reserve Tamango

The reserve has a surface of 6.925 ha. It is located 6 km N.E. from the town of Cochrane, in the north shore of the Cochrane Lake. The reserve has areas for camping, bathrooms and some cabins. The main attraction of this reserve is chance to see a Huemul (deer), being the best season in spring time.

Tortel

Commune located in the austral archipelagos of the Chilean Patagonia, in the mouth of the Baker river between the Northern and Southern Ice Fields. Caleta Tortel emerges as a town due the exploitation of cypress wood, located in rocky areas and hills, so that is why its inhabitants have built cypress walkways to walk through. Today there are more than 10 km that connects the docks and the houses. It was declared a "National Monument" in the typical zone category in 2001.

It is possible to take an excursion to La Isla de los Muertos (The Island of the Dead) sailing in the Baker, and excursions to the Steffen Glacier, which is part of the San Rafael National Park in Northern Ice Field and the Jorge Montt Glacier is part the Bernardo O'Higgins National Park in the Southern Ice Field.

Cochrane

Cochrane is the main town of the extreme south of Aysen. With 3.000 inhabitants offers a wide service range for the visitors and attractive places to visit as the National Reserve Tamango, Chacabuco Valley, Monte San Lorenzo, Calluqueo Glacier, Brown and Cochrane Lakes or Baker and Ñadis rivers. All are suitable places to go during the whole year and where you can start nice walks, horse riding o sailings which allows you to appreciate the beauty of this zone.

Baker River

The great Baker river is one of the mayor tributaries in the country. It rises in the extreme meridional of Bertrand Lake, in the southeast of General Carrera Lake and it has a total length of 200 km which flows into the surroundings of Caleta Tortel. Between its main tributaries are the Neff, Chacabuco, Cochrane, El Salto, Colonia, Los Ñadis, Ventisquero and Vargas rivers.

The Baker river is also a scenery of an adrenaline sport discipline, kayak descending.

Villa O'Higgins

Villa O'Higgins, a town 600 inhabitants app. Which marks the end of the road of the Carretera Austral and the beginning of the Southern Ice Field. Scientifics, expedition members and adventurers from all over the world arrived here to discover the secrets of this border territory. A network of trails highlighting attractive places with presence of the Cisnes and Cuervo lakes, Mayer river and Mosco or Tigre glaciers. From this place it is possible to visit O'Higgins Lake, a privileged place for recreational fishing and sail to Bahia Bahamondez to access through the lake different touristic attractions.
